Institute for Public Health Innovation

HEALTH AND WELL-BEING FOR ALL COMMUNITIES

The Institute for Public Health Innovation (IPHI) is a change agent to improve health equity and highlight resources in the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Virginia.

WHAT DO WE DO?

Simply put — IPHI adds capacity to the public health system.

We develop multi-sector partnerships and innovative solutions to improve the public's health and well-being. Our work strengthens health systems and policies, enhances conditions that promote health, and builds community resilience to ensure equitable health opportunities for all.

WHO ARE WE?

Started in 2009, IPHI is one of 42 public health institutes within the National Network of Public Health Institutes (NNPHI). Public health institutes work with public and private partners to improve the public's health, increase public health options by training the workforce, developing programs, and conducting research and evaluation. IPHI is the official public health institute serving the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Virginia.

HOW DO WE DO IT?

Innovative Strategies

Cross-sector Partnerships

Training and Support

Support Effective Policies

IPHI works with various partners to develop, implement, and evaluate effective solutions to help create healthier communities.

IPHI seeks and works with community partners (government, public, and private) to protect and improve the public's health.

IPHI offers workforce training opportunities and provides technical assistance to build capacity to advance population health.

IPHI supports and advocates for developing and implementing equitable and effective public health policies.

Contact Us | 🌐 www.institutePHI.org 📞 202.407.7088